Cures a Prominent Attorney.

MR. R. C. PHELPS, the leading pension attorney of Belfast, N. Y., writes: "I was discharged from the army on account of ill health, and suffered from heart trouble ever since. I frequently had fainting spells, and was constantly under a doctor's care. I could not attend to my business. My rest was broken by severe pains about the heart and left shoulder. Three years ago I commenced using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, notwithstanding I had used so much patent medicine and taken drugs from doctors for years without being helped. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure restored me to health. It is truly a wonderful medicine and it affords me much pleasure to recommend this remedy to everyone."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

EVACUATION OF CUBA

Action of Colonial Authorities May Cause Serious Complications.

THE AMERICAN POSITION

Is to Insist on a Strict Adherence to the Protocol—Commissioners May Submit an Ultimatum—Aguiñaldo's Independence Envoies Arrive at San Francisco.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Official dispatches received by one of the embassies here from Havana confirm the reports that the colonial government of the island is taking a hand in shaping the terms on which the evacuation shall be executed. This, it is believed here, may develop some new phases in the situation in Cuba.

The colonial government was established by Spain shortly before the war broke out, there being a cabinet of five officers at Havana and a legislative body with two houses. It carried out in a measure the long pending plan of giving Cuba home rule by means of an autonomous government, but, while in name autonomous, it was controlled by the insurgent element that genuine home rule was lacking and that this colonial regime was a continuance of Spanish domination. It appears, however, that these colonial authorities are taking a very active part in the present negotiations, and that there is more or less co-operation between them and the Spanish government.

This creates a condition in which the United States must deal not only with Spain, but with those who claim to represent the island itself, free from Spanish control. The colonial or autonomous administration is very thoroughly organized and can exert much influence. It established a regular legion in Washington prior to the war, with several prominent public men of Havana on the staff. It numbers in its ranks much of the wealth of Cuba, and claims to stand for the educated classes as against the insurgents and illiterates. This makes two distinct Cuban classes: The autonomists, who are co-operating with Spain, and the insurgents who are opposed to Spain.

It now seems clear, from the official as well as the press reports from Havana and Madrid, that the autonomist element is taking up the claim first advanced by Spain that many incidental questions as to Cuba must be settled before the evacuation begins. But the view among government officials here is that the Cuban autonomists, as well as the Spaniards, have no questions to advance or settle before evacuation is determined upon.

Strict Adherence to the Protocol. The time and place of the evacuation is looked upon by the authorities here as the only point involved, and there is likely to be a rude awakening if the pro-Spanish element, either as autonomists or as native Spaniards, insists upon bringing in the determination of the Cuban debt, future government, rates of tariff for Spain and many other subjects, as a preliminary to evacuation. The American commissioners, according to the understanding here, will insist on a strict adherence to the protocol for an immediate evacuation of the island, and, if need be, will submit an ultimatum against taking up subsidiary questions on Cuba's future.

While the Cuban colonial government is thus combining with the Spanish government in bringing forward these incidental questions, yet the opinion was expressed by a high diplomatic officer, based on recent advices from Havana, that a serious issue would be

It is a painful sight to see an otherwise robust man limping along on a crutch or cane, a sufferer from rheumatism. Rheumatism is a disease that will never attack a man who keeps his blood pure and rich. There is just one way to do this. That is, to keep the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and rich with the life-giving elements of the food, the nerves strong and steady, and it drives all impurities and abnormal acids from the blood. It allays inflammation and dispels pain. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It does not make corruptible people more corruptible. Unlike cod liver oil, it does not build fatty flesh, but tears down the unhealthy, half dead tissues that constitute corpulence, carries them away and excretes them, replacing them with the firm tissues of health. Medical Discovery. I used three bottles of it and all medicine stores.

"I have been afflicted with rheumatism and kidney trouble," writes Mr. C. B. White, of Grove, Georgia Co., Ohio. "I suffered untold pain. I was afraid I would lose my mind. At times was almost entirely helpless. There had not been a night for three years that I could rest in any position. I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I used three bottles of it and am well of both diseases."

averted and that the actual evacuation of the Spanish troops from Cuba would begin within the next month.

But it appears that the evacuation will cover a much longer time than has been anticipated. There are some 100,000 Spanish troops in the island. Allowing 1,000 men on a transport and a vessel leaving every day, it would take 100 days, or over three months, for the evacuation. But the vessels are not available for a trip every day for 100 consecutive days, so that the time for departure would probably exceed three months.

REORGANIZATION.

Major General Miles Has Completed His Plans For Volunteer Force.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Major General Miles has completed his plan for the reorganization of the volunteer forces into corps, divisions and brigades. The plan contemplates a reorganization of the volunteer force which has not been ordered mustered out and designates an army of occupation for Cuba, provides for the relief of the army in Porto Rico and establishes a reserve to relieve the troops in the various islands which will be occupied by the United States. It is known that the troops of the Seventh corps, now under General Lee, will be designated to go to Cuba, and that troops from the camps at Lexington, Knoxville and Middletown, will be selected for Cuban duty.

REVIEWED THE MARINES.

Bronzed Heroes of Guantanamo March Past the Executive Mansion.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The president yesterday reviewed from the portico of the white house a detachment of about 200 members of the marine corps which served at Guantanamo during the war. The marines had just arrived and they marched direct to the executive mansion, headed by the marine band. The president stood with bared head as the bronzed heroes marched past, bowing his head, waving his hat and clapping his hands in turn. He seemed much affected by the appearance of the men who had demeaned themselves so nobly during those trying days at the front where they constituted the only American force on Spanish soil.

NEW NAVAL GUNS.

Twelve-Inch Gun That Will Be More Powerful Than Present Thirteen-Inch.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The navy department has recently placed orders for forgings for naval rifles of calibres from 4 to 12-inch to supply the new battleships. Owing to changes in construction they will be much more powerful than guns of the same calibre now afloat on our ships.

The ordnance officers have for several years realized the possibility of improving the present standard naval gun, effective as it is, but the time has not been opportune to do this. The advent of smokeless powder has also aided to make the change possible. The new 12-inch gun will be as effective as the present 13-inch gun in way of striking force.

The new gun will send its projectile at the enormous velocity of 3,000 feet per second, which is about 50 per cent greater than the velocity of the present 13-inch shell. The ordnance officers say that there is a very erroneous idea prevalent as to the value of the ammunition shot away by Dewey at Manila and by Sampson's fleet at Santiago. Instead of this running up as high as $2,000,000, as asserted in some quarters, the fact was that Dewey at Manila fired 47,000 worth of ammunition, and the North Atlantic fleet at Santiago on July 3 and during the bombardment not to exceed $100,000.

AGUIÑALDO'S EMISSARIES.

They Arrive in San Francisco Enroute to Washington.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—The United States transport China arrived yesterday from Manila, and brought with her as passengers two representatives of the provisional government of the Philippines enroute to Washington to plead with McKinley for independence of the islands, after which they will probably proceed to Paris to appear before the peace commission. The Philippines are Philippine Agoncillo and Jose Lopez, the former being Aguiñaldo's chief emissary. In an interview he said the insurgents fully expected to be allowed to govern themselves, and even hinted that an agreement had been made with United States Consul Wildman regarding the outcome of the war, made by the insurgents against Spain, but what the terms were Agoncillo would not state. A passenger on the China disclosed some further information regarding the reported agreement between Wildman and the insurgents. He said: "Wildman promised Aguiñaldo that the American forces would combine with the insurgents for the purpose of driving the Spaniards out of the Philippines. It was a joint war, and I think the insurgents understood that the Americans were to aid them to gain their independence and cast off the yoke of Spain."

General King Ordered to Manila, San Francisco, Sept. 23.—A dispatch was received at army headquarters yesterday ordering General King and detachment, now at Honolulu, to proceed to Manila. The transport Arizona is due at Manila next Saturday and will return to Honolulu immediately. A provision ship will be sent from here to Honolulu to provide for the troops.

During the last few years he has resided in Paducah.

The Continental Fraternal Union has an exceedingly large membership, principally in Indiana, gained through the promise of paying to its members $1,000 in seven years. Colonel R. M. Johnson and Judge Robert Lowry, attorneys, have filed eight suits for parties here against the Supreme Lodge. Each case is for $1,000, judgment being prayed for in view of the fact that policies have run over the allotted seven years. B. Michener Graves is the supreme chancellor.

GEN. AUGUSTI'S TALK

His Story of Dewey's Great Naval Victory In the Philippines.

ADMIRAL MONTEJO'S FLEET

Composed of Old Wooden Ships and the Shore Batteries Were Mounted on False Plates—Held Out Till Famine Starved Him In the Face and Dewey Bombarded the City.

Madrid, Sept. 23.—General Augusti, the former captain general of the Philippine islands, who has just arrived at Victoria, Spain, from Manila, in an interview is quoted as discussing the Philippine question in an interesting manner. He is alleged to have said:

"Before I left Spain I knew the situation in the Philippine islands was grave. Senor Moret, (the minister of the colonies in the last cabinet of Senor Sagasta), remarked to me that if war with the United States broke out there would be a terrible state of things."

Continuing, General Augusti described Admiral Montejó's fleet as some "old, wooden ships," and said they "came to Manila practically pursued by Dewey." He then said:

"Our batteries fired at the Americans, but our guns were mounted on false plates and after the first shots they became useless. At daybreak we were in the power of the Americans and an hour afterward the Spanish fleet had ceased to exist."

Dewey summoned me to surrender, I refused and he threatened to raze the town. I replied:

"Raze it, but so long as I live the Spanish flag will float on the ruins of Manila."

"Then began the terrible time of the siege and the anguish of the blockade. Famine stared us in the face. In the meantime hostilities were conducted throughout the provinces, but, save in isolated cases, humanely."

"Dewey repeated his summons to surrender and I again refused. Dewey then bombarded the town and Manila surrendered."

"But, considering my presence no longer necessary, I asked the government for permission to go home, as my position had become by no means easy. I think I have done my duty as a soldier and a Spaniard."

CEVERA'S COOLNESS

Amounts Almost to a Snub of the Spanish Minister of Marine.

Madrid, Sept. 23.—The marked coolness of Admiral Cervera and his officers toward Senor Annon, minister of marine, is much commented upon here. Senor Annon and his staff, in uniform, met Admiral Cervera and his party at the railroad depot. The admiral halted before the minister, saluted and said, stiffly:

"I am at the orders of your excellency. I shall present myself at the ministry today, as is my duty."

The minister of marine offered the use of his carriage to Admiral Cervera, but the latter declined to accept it and entered another carriage.

In an interview Admiral Cervera said he had a clear conscience regarding Santiago. Nations, he said, grew great by their victories and not by their defeats, however glorious they might be. Spain had lived in a dream and she now had to face reality. The admiral added that his warships were not destroyed in battle, but by fire.

General Tola, the Spanish commander who surrendered his forces at Santiago de Cuba, has arrived here without attracting any attention. He is now sick in bed.

The ministerial newspapers protest against the supposition that the United States will keep the Philippine islands. They maintain that Spain's rights to these islands are incontestable and that she is "resolved to defend her rights with the greatest energy."

NO IRONCLAD TREATY

Desired by American Industries With Canada, It Is Said.

Quebec, Sept. 23.—The people of the United States are evidently beginning to awaken to the great importance of the results which may come from the work of the international joint high commission now in session in this city. It has become known that the Canadian representatives are urging that the treaty embodying commercial reciprocity be made, which treaty, it is held, would seriously affect nearly all the great industries of the United States. These industries are now being heard from in a very emphatic way.

During the past 48 hours the American commissioners have been besieged by deputations of Americans, praying that no ironclad treaty be entered into which would disturb, if not in many instances destroy, the present protective tariff laws of the United States. The farmers of the United States have put in their protest and it is a very strong one. They were represented by Aaron Jones of Indiana, worthy master of the National Grange, and F. J. Bachelder of New Hampshire, chairman of the national executive committee. They were given a very full hearing and will have another audience before the commissioners act.

MURDER MYSTERY

Chicago Police Disposed to Regard Jennie Hickey's Death as a Suicide.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—There were no developments in the Jennie Hickey murder case. The higher police officials, including Chief Kipley, are disposed to regard it as a suicide, but the physician who made the postmortem examination declares emphatically that the girl was murdered. It has been learned that Thomas Rutledge, the expressman, who is under arrest on suspicion, did not bring his wagon into the stable of his employer until 1:30 Wednesday morning, although he should have been in by 10 p. m. Tuesday. When he appeared at the stable Wednesday afternoon he was discharged and seemed greatly excited because the wagon had gone out with some things in it which he wished to obtain. Two other arrests have been made, but nothing is expected to result from them.

Briggs of Illinois, Sam McFadden of Indiana, James Givens of Kentucky, D. G. Wood of Tennessee, N. H. Garr of Oklahoma and E. M. Davis of Pennsylvania. Indianapolis was selected as the place of meeting next year.

FAIRY TALE

Dreyfus' Name Not Mentioned in Documents Brought Against Him.

Paris, Sept. 23.—General Picquart was transferred yesterday afternoon to the military prison of Cherche Midi.

The Matin affirms that it has authentic information that the name of Dreyfus was never once mentioned in the mass of documents brought against him. It adds that the only serious document is the so-called bordereau. The documents in the case, it appears, consist entirely of fragments of letters referring to everything except Dreyfus, and the whole matter, The Matin adds, "constitutes such a fairy tale that no soberminded person would dream of accepting it."

OLD GLORY

Worn by Lord Aberdeen at the Ottawa Exposition.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—At the conclusion of the exercises at the Ottawa exhibition, Lord Aberdeen made a tour of the grounds. The party first visited the Aberdeen pavilion. When passing up the center aisle a young woman in attendance at one of the exhibits, asked his excellency's permission to pin a small souvenir of the stars and stripes on his coat lapel. The request was granted and Lord Aberdeen wore "Old Glory" for the rest of the afternoon.

President of Imperial University.

Tried to Knock His Brains Out.

Lebanon, Ky., Sept. 23.—A man of about 40 years of age, who gave his name as Patrick Henry and his home as being in Whitley county, this state, attempted suicide in this city. He says he escaped from the Lankeland (Ky.) asylum.

Paris, Sept. 23.—The French wheat crop is estimated at 123,000,000 hectolitres, the largest since 1874. When the yield was 136,000,000 hectolitres, this will render France independent of foreign importations of wheat.

The Wheat Crop.

A political economist in Siberia reports for 1,400 miles east of Moscow the crops are very poor, and that a space of 500 miles square of this territory the crops, even grass, are a total failure; that in Samara, which is twice as large as Belgium, farmers will not raise enough to supply one fifth of the population; that this stricken district is the finest spring wheat and cereal section in Russia, and generally has a large exportable surplus. A Russian official says Russian provinces will require to import 80,000,000 bushels of grain, and he cannot see how wheat can remain down in price; that stocks the world over have been completely depleted, and in Russia are completely exhausted.—Ware & Leland.

Umbrellas Must Match Street Costumes

No more black umbrellas. The umbrellas must match the costume, for this winter. If you wear a dark red cloth suit, you must carry a dark red silk umbrella to match; and dark blue, dark green, and even shaded umbrellas to match costumes are being made for the winter season. Already some of the best tailors in town are receiving orders for umbrellas to match the costumes. Ordered in this way they are naturally very expensive. Thrifty women who want to follow the new fad will purchase silk to match their tailor suits, take it, with frame of an old umbrella, to a local umbrella or parasol maker, and for a comparatively small sum of money, keep in the rapidly-moving van of fashion. It should be borne in mind that the fad is for a storm umbrella, not a parasol to match the suit.—From "Society Fads," by Patty de Peyster, in Demorest's Magazine for October.

PAY FEES OR SUFFER

TIPS THAT MUST BE GIVEN ON THE BIG OCEAN LINERS.

The Passenger Who Seeks to Evade This System of Mild Blackmailing Has His Life on Board Made Miserable by the Employees of the Steamship.

The fee system is more rigidly enforced on a big passenger steamship than anywhere else. It is one of the places where servants demand their fees and tell you the amount that they think you ought to give them. While the waiters at restaurants and hotels expect fees for their services and will hint and may perhaps make it embarrassing for you if they are not paid they have not gone so far as to tell you that they want a fee and prescribe the amount. Even porters do not do that. They come around, brush your coat and hat and run the whisk over your trousers, but it is seldom that they ask you for any money, let alone a specified amount.

On the passenger steamers the stewards regard their fees as a matter of right as much as the steamship company regards your passage money. It is possible to avoid paying the fees, as they are not collectable by law, but the passenger who does not pay them will have trouble in getting his luggage off the steamer, and it would be well for him to keep off steamers afterward where any of the servants of that boat are employed.

The stewards seem to have some sort of fee guidebook or black list of passengers who do not give fees, so that they can make them suffer on future trips. Certain fees are regularly fixed and expected, irrespective of the cost of the stateroom or the style in which a man travels, while certain other fees depend on the style. For an ordinary passenger there are fees to be given to the stateroom steward, the saloon steward, the deck steward, the smoking room steward and the barber and bath man.

The fee to the stateroom steward who looks after your stateroom is about 10 shillings. The steward who waits on you at the table should receive the same fee. The deck steward, for bringing you an occasional drink and looking after your steamer chair and rugs, expects 5 shillings, but he will take half a crown. The smoking room steward expects 5 shillings, and if you are in the smoking room a great part of the trip he feels that he is entitled to as much as the stateroom steward or your waiter. A bath every day on the passage can be had for 5 shilling fee.

These rates are fixed by long custom. The stewards can tell whether or not a man understands the rates and if he will pay at the end of the trip. If they do not think that he will, they give him hints from time to time until they get some assurance on his part that he recognizes the obligation of the fee system. If they think he will not pay, he will have a hard time of it. He will find that his stateroom is not well made up; that he does not get care when he is seasick; that he is served last at the table and does not get the things that he ordered; that the wrong drinks and cigars come to him in the smoking room, and that his steamer chair is constantly lost. The servants are as effective as seasickness in making a man's trip miserable.

These fees are not to be paid until the last day of the trip. The servants very speedily find out at which place a passenger is to get off. If making his first trip, they are pretty sure to know it. It is advisable for him in that case to tell his stateroom steward and his waiter that he will give them the regular fee at the end of the trip if they serve him properly and that if they do not they will not get a penny. If he tells them this in the proper way, he will get as good service as the man who is well known.

The last morning of the trip the stateroom steward comes round for his fee. If the passenger does not offer it, the steward suggests that it is customary to give him a fee, and that the regular fee is half a sovereign. If anything less is offered him and he thinks he can get a half sovereign by refusing to accept less, he will at once hand the proffered sum back and say in an insolent way that he never takes less than the regular fee.

With many passengers, particularly women, this remark and the tone extract the 10 shillings. The saloon steward does the same thing. The stewards work in with each other, and if a man succeeds in avoiding the stateroom steward the saloon steward will ask him for both himself and the stateroom steward. As a man cannot get off the ship until it stops, there is no way of escaping these demands, which will be repeated during the last day of the trip until the passenger succumbs.—New York Home Journal.

TWO TOILERS.

Two men toiled side by side from sun to sun, and both were poor; Both sat with children when the day was done About their door.

One saw the beautiful in crimson cloud And shining moon; The other, with his head in sadness bowed, Made night of noon.

One loved each tree and flower and singing bird On mount or plain; No music in the soul of one was stirred By leaf or rain.

One saw the good in every fellow man, And hoped the best; The other marvelled at his master's plan, And doubt confessed.

One, having heaven above and heaven below; Was satisfied; The other, discontented, lived in woe, And hopeless died.

A VANITY BOOK.

Personal Record Keeping Whose Interest Excuses Its Vanity.

In the beginning one's parents must be the authors, or if the parents will not then some devoted aunt may win for herself the warmest thanks in years to come. When Heart's Delight came to earth some 15 years ago, a substantial volume was bought to be her book. Into this went first the genealogy of the family on father's and mother's sides as far as there was knowledge of it. Photographs of great-grandparents, grandparents and parents were inserted. The wedding dress of the paternal grandmother was shown by a small piece, and the maternal side was rich with bits of the wedding dresses of mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. Photographs of father and mother at the time of their marriage and when Heart's Delight was born were also added. To these were added one of the house and the room which the little maid made blessed by her coming. The announcement card went in and letters written for her welcome. Mamma wrote a description of the wonder, and papa took her photograph.

All this was for the beginning, but as months went on there was more to chronicle. Baby's ways, the coming of her first tooth, her first word and when it was spoken, when she began to creep and then to walk—all these were recorded. Into the book went, too, such treasures as the first sock, the first little shoe, a piece of her first colored dress. Everything of whatever kind that marked a beginning found a permanent place in the Vanity Book, and the story of the child's life may be read therein.

As the child developed the character of the items naturally changed. When she went to school, her early efforts supplied more material, sometimes in the shape of school work and sometimes as stories of childish temptations or griefs and joys. Heart's Delight's first letter is entered in the book.

There are so many tokens here that are treasures, more valuable as they grow older. The first invitation to a party, the first theater programme, and with this are other programmes of those things which have impressed the child. Her first party dress, of course, was shown in the book. Throughout the book are photographs of Heart's Delight herself as she grew toward girlhood and of the girls and boys who were her friends.

Long ago the bookmaking fell into the hands of the girl herself, and she adds to it all that points to the story she is making. Everything of pleasure, of special benefit in her life, is to be recalled from this book, and even now she prizes it above all her possessions. What will it be to her when she is 50? What will it be to her when her son or daughter, when some one writes "Pinkie" to it for her? What would you not give for such a book left you by your mother or father? It would be worth more than money.

There is a great deal of pleasure to be found in making such a book for oneself, though if one begins it after childhood he loses much that went into the little one's book. It will become filled, however, with the important things of life, each making these for himself. A vanity book is one of the best things in the world to show how one's ideas of values change and how life's horizon expands. It records a life with some of those which preceded it and gave it its bent and those which accompanied and developed it. Though it may be vanity, it is yet a vanity with a lesson.—New York Sun.

Animals' Fright Is Short.

A question that has often been asked is, How long does fright last in a wild creature? The close observer will be surprised at its brief duration. They are not subject to "nerves" like human beings. A partridge after running (or rather flying) the gamut of half a dozen guns—if we may be allowed a mixed metaphor—drops on the other side of a hedge and begins calmly to peck as if nothing had happened. You would think a rabbit after hearing a charge of shot whistling about its haunches and just managing to escape from a yelping spaniel would keep indoors for a week, but out it pops quite merrily as soon as the coast is clear. A fox pursued by hounds has been known to halt and kill a fowl in its flight, though we may assume that his enemies were not close to Reynard at the time. We have been led into thinking about the matter by noting what took place at a cover after being shot over.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Place For the Repentant.

They had eloped and returned for the parental blessing.

"Father," the beautiful young woman said, "we are sorry for what we have done. Will you?"

"Then," the stern old man interrupted, "why don't you go to the lawyer around the corner? I'm no divorce court."—Chicago News.

If they think he will not pay, he will have a hard time of it. He will find that his stateroom is not well made up; that he does not get care when he is sick; that he is served last at the table and does not get the things that he ordered; that the wrong drinks and cigars come to him in the smoking room, and that his steamer chair is constantly lost. The servants are as effective as sea sickness in making a man's trip miserable.

These fees are not to be paid until the last day of the trip. The servants very speedily find out at which place a passenger is to get off. If making his first trip, they are pretty sure to know it. It is advisable for him in that case to tell his stateroom steward and his waiter that he will give them the regular fee at the end of the trip if they do serve him properly and that if they do not they will not get a penny. If he tells them this in the proper way, he will get as good service as the man who is well known.

The last morning of the trip the stateroom steward comes round for his fee. If the passenger does not offer it, the steward suggests that it is customary to give him a fee, and that the regular fee is half a sovereign. If anything less is offered him and he thinks he can get a half sovereign by refusing to accept less, he will at once hand the proffered sum back and say in an insolent way that he never takes less than the regular fee.

With many passengers, particularly women, this remark and the tone extract the 10 shillings. The saloon steward does the same thing. The stewards work in with each other, and if a man succeeds in avoiding the stateroom steward the saloon steward will ask him for both himself and the stateroom steward. As a man cannot get off the ship until it stops, there is no way of escaping these demands, which will be repeated during the last day of the trip until the passenger succumbs.—New York Home Journal.

Much of the artificial coloring of foods is traditional and not meant to deceive. Thus candies are colored obviously to please the eye and add to the attractiveness of the confectioner's showcase, and likewise butter and mustard are colored with no intent to spoil their purity.

TWO TOILERS.

Two men toiled side by side from sun to sun. And both were poor; Both sat with children when the day was done About their door.

One saw the beautiful in crimson cloud And shining moon; The other, with his head in sadness bowed, Made night of noon.

One loved each tree and flower and singing bird On mount or plain; No music in the soul of one was stirred By leaf or rain.

One saw the good in every fellow man, And hoped the best; The other marveled at his master's plan, And doubt confessed.

One, having heaven above and heaven below; Was satisfied; The other, discontented, lived in woe, And hopeless died.

A VANITY BOOK.

Personal Record Keeping Whose Interest Excuses Its Vanity.

In the beginning one's parents must be the authors, or if the parents will not then some devoted aunt may win for herself the warmest thanks in years to come. When Heart's Delight came to earth some 15 years ago, a substantial volume was bought to be her book. Into this went first the genealogy of the family on father's and mother's sides as far as there was knowledge of it. Photographs of great-great-grandparents, grandparents and parents were inserted. The wedding dress of the paternal grandmother was shown by a small piece, and the maternal side was rich with bits of the wedding dresses of mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. Photographs of father and mother at the time of their marriage and when Heart's Delight was born were also added. To these were added one of the house and the room which the little maid made blessed by her coming. The announcement card went in and letters written for her welcome. Mamma wrote a description of the wonder, and papa took her photograph.

All this was for the beginning, but as months went on there was more to chronicle. Baby's ways, the coming of her first tooth, her first word and when it was spoken, when she began to creep and then to walk—all these were recorded. Into the book went, too, such treasures as the first sock, the first little shoe, a piece of her first colored dress. Everything of whatever kind that marked a beginning found a permanent place in the Vanity Book, and the story of the child's life may be read therein.

As the child developed the character of the items naturally changed. When she went to school, her early efforts supplied more material, sometimes in the shape of school work and sometimes as stories of childish temptations or griefs and joys. Heart's Delight's first letter is entered in the book.

There are so many tokens here that are treasures, more valuable as they grow older. The first invitation to a party, the first theater programme, and with this are other programmes of those things which have impressed the child. Her first party dress, of course, was shown in the book. Throughout the book are photographs of Heart's Delight herself as she grew toward girlhood and of the girls and boys who were her friends.

Long ago the bookmaking fell into the hands of the girl herself, and she adds to it all that points to the story she is making. Everything of pleasure, of special benefit in her life, is to be recalled from this book, and even now she prizes it above all her possessions. What will it be to her when she is 50? What will it be worth to her son or daughter when some one writes "Papa" to it for her? What would you not give for such a book left you by your mother or father? It would be worth more than money.

There is a great deal of pleasure to be found in making such a book for oneself, though if one begins it after childhood he loses much that went into the little one's book. It will become filled, however, with the important things of life, each making these for himself. A vanity book is one of the best things in the world to show how one's ideas of values change and how life's horizon expands. It records a life with some of those which preceded it and gave it its bent and those which accompanied and developed it. Though it may be vanity, it is yet a vanity with a lesson.—New York Sun.

Animals' Fright Is Short.

A question that has often been asked is, How long does fright last in a wild creature? The close observer will be surprised at its brief duration. They are not subject to "nerves" like human beings. A partridge after running (or rather flying) the gamut of half a dozen guns—if we may be allowed a mixed metaphor—drops on the other side of a hedge and begins calmly to peck as if nothing had happened. You would think a rabbit after hearing a charge and shot whistling about its haunches and just managing to keep indoors for a yelping spaniel would keep indoors for a week, but out it pops quite merrily as soon as the coast is clear. A fox pursued by hounds has been known to halt and kill a fowl in its flight, though we may assume that his enemies were not close to Roynard at the time. We have been led into thinking about the matter by noting what took place at a cover after being shot over.—Fall Mall Gazette.

The Place For the Repentant.

They had eloped and returned for the parental blessing. "Father," the beautiful young woman said, "we are sorry for what we have done. Will you?" "Then," the stern old man interrupted, "why don't you go to the lawyer around the corner? I'm no divorce court."—Chicago News.

Beautiful Church Wedding.

Last evening at the First Baptist church Mr. Winfred E. Ross, of Washington, and Miss Nettie Lester, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lester, of this city, were united in marriage in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms and cut flowers. As the guests arrived they were escorted to seats by the ushers, Messrs. DeGraft Billings, John M. Lewis, Ed. Bryan, N. M. Carlson, Louis B. Seifert, of Washington, and Geo. Woody, of Columbus. A few minutes after 8 o'clock Mrs. May Mechen, of Vincennes, took her place at the piano and began the wedding march and the bridal party entered. The ushers proceeded down the aisle from the lecture room followed immediately by the bridesmaids, Misses Bertie Brown, Alice Cobb, Nettie Crabb, Emma Crabb, Beatrice Cazine and Clara Childs, and the maid of honor, Miss Vivian Ross, sister of the groom. Immediately following them came the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The groom, with Mort Crabb, the best man, came down the side aisle. They met in front of the altar, where the solemn and impressive ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. W. Clevenger. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white liberty silk and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaids were attired in white organdy.

After the ceremony the wedding party went to the home of the bride's parents and remained until the hour arrived for the newly married couple to start for the depot to take the train for Detroit where they will reside. A number of friends and relatives were present at the wedding from Washington, Vincennes, Columbus and other places.

They were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Ross have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

Scores of carpenters are still at work on street fair booths. By tomorrow evening nearly all the booths will be completed, and they will be far in advance of those of a year ago.

Price Bros. are erecting a fine booth today in which there will be an attractive display of embroidery.

The John C. Groub Co. is getting their booth ready for the large pumpkins and watermelons that will be placed in competition for premiums they offer.

Langdon & Co. are preparing well for a large collection of apples.

George Cole has his booth about ready for a large exhibit of peaches of all varieties.

George Riehm is putting up a nice booth for a display of pears.

The Kisselman Bakery has their booth about completed. Their premium is for the best half pound of homemade candy.

Files a Disclaimer.

Joseph Smith very positively asserts that he is not to be married next week during the progress of the street fair and that all reports to the contrary are untrue. This, so far as we know, leaves the young attorney, who is an officer of the state and city, a clear field as a competitor for the bedroom suit.

R. F. WHITE'S

MINIFREDE COAL.

A Sea Gale.

The boy stood on the burning deck.

And shouted o'er the sea:

"I'll have to let this fire go out

Unless you send to me—

"A dozen tons or so of coal

White's Minifrede brand preferred—

With that I'll keep these flames alive

Till Gabriel's trump is heard."

One hundred tons of Minifrede

Were shipped at early dawn.

But ere they reached the fatal scene

The boy and ship were gone.

Beautiful Church Wedding.

Last evening at the First Baptist church Mr. Winfred E. Ross, of Washington, and Miss Nettie Lester, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lester, of this city, were united in marriage in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms and cut flowers. As the guests arrived they were escorted to seats by the ushers, Messrs. DeGraft Billings, John M. Lewis, Ed. Bryan, N. M. Carlson, Louis B. Sefrit, of Washington, and Geo. Woody, of Columbus. A few minutes after 8 o'clock Mrs. May Mechlen, of Vincennes, took her place at the piano and began the wedding march and the bridal party entered. The ushers proceeded down the aisle from the lecture room followed immediately by the bridesmaids, Misses Bertie Brown, Alice Cobb, Nettie Crabb, Emma Crabb, Beatrice Cezine and Clara Childs, and the maid of honor, Miss Vivian Ross, sister of the groom. Immediately following them came the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The groom, with Mort Crabb, the best man, came down the side aisle. They met in front of the altar, where the solemn and impressive ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. W. Clevenger. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white liberty silk and carried a bouquet of roses. [The bridesmaids were attired in white organdie.

After the ceremony the wedding party went to the home of the bride's parents and remained until the hour arrived for the newly married couple to start for the depot to take the train for Detroit where they will reside. A number of friends and relatives were present at the wedding from Washington, Vincennes, Columbus and other places. They were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Ross have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

Files a Disclaimer.

Joseph Smith very positively asserts that he is not to be married next week during the progress of the street fair and that all reports to the contrary are untrue. This, so far as we know, leaves the young attorney, who is an officer of the state and city, a clear field as a competitor for the bedroom suit.

BURN

R. F. WHITE'S

MINIFREDE GOAL.

A Sea Gale.

The boy stood on the burning deck.

And shouted o'er the sea:

"I'll have to let this fire go out

Unless you send to me—

"A dozen tons or so of coal

White's Winifrede brand preferred—

With that I'll keep these flames alive

Till Gabriel's trump is heard."

One hundred tons of Winifrede

Were shipped at early dawn,

But ere they reached the fatal scene

The boy and ship were gone.

The moral of this glowing tale

Is clear, beyond a doubt:

Let R. F. WHITE fill up your bins

Before your coal gives out.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

Cures a Prominent Attorney.

M. R. C. PHELPS, the leading pension attorney of Belfast, N. Y., writes: "I was discharged from the army on account of ill health, and suffered from heart trouble ever since. I frequently had fainting and smothering spells. My form was bent as a man of 80. I constantly wore an overcoat, even in summer, for fear of taking cold. I could not attend to my business. My rest was broken by severe pains about the heart and left shoulder. Three years ago I commenced using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, notwithstanding I had used so much patent medicine and taken drugs from doctors for years without being helped. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure restored me to health. It is truly a wonderful medicine and it affords me much pleasure to recommend this remedy to everyone."

Action of Colonial Authorities May Cause Serious Complications.

THE AMERICAN POSITION

Is to Insist on a Strict Adherence to the Protocol—Commissioners May Submit an Ultimatum—Agua de la Independencia Emissaries Arrive at San Francisco.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Official dispatches received by one of the embassies here from Havana confirm the reports that the colonial government of the island is taking a hand in shaping the terms on which the evacuation shall be executed. This, it is believed here, may develop some new phases in the situation in Cuba.

The colonial government was established by Spain shortly before the war broke out, there being a cabinet of five officers at Havana and a legislative body with two houses. It carried out in a measure the long pending plan of giving Cuba home rule by means of an autonomous government, but, while in name autonomous, it was controlled by the insurgent element that genuine home rule was lacking and that this colonial regime was a continuance of Spanish domination. It appears, however, that these colonial authorities are taking a very active part in the present negotiations, and that there is more or less co-operation between them and the Spanish government.

This creates a condition in which the United States must deal not only with Spain, but with those who claim to represent the island itself, free from Spanish control. The colonial or autonomous administration is very thoroughly organized and can exert much influence. It established a regular legation in Washington prior to the war, with several prominent public men of Havana on the staff. It numbers in its ranks much of the wealth of Cuba, and claims to stand for the educated classes as against the insurgents and illiterates. The autonomists, who are co-operating with Spain, and the insurgents who are opposed to Spain.

It now seems clear, from the official as well as the press reports from Havana and Madrid, that the autonomist element is taking up the claim first advanced by Spain that many incidental questions as to Cuba must be settled before the evacuation begins. But the view among government officials here is that the Cuban autonomists, as well as the Spaniards, have no questions to advance or settle before evacuation is determined upon.

Strict Adherence to the Protocol. The time and place of the evacuation is looked upon by the authorities here as the only point involved, and there is likely to be a rude awakening if the pro-Spanish element, either as autonomists or as native Spaniards, insists upon bringing in the determination of the Cuban debt, future government, rates of tariff for Spain and many other subjects as a preliminary to evacuation. The American commissioners, according to the understanding here, will insist on a strict adherence to the protocol for an immediate evacuation of the island, and, if need be, will submit an ultimatum against taking up subsidiary questions on Cuba's future.

While the Cuban colonial government is thus combining with the Spanish government in bringing forward these incidental questions, yet the opinion was expressed by a high diplomatic officer, based on recent advices from Havana, that a serious issue would be orders of the digestion, and all weakness of the stomach. averted and that the actual evacuation of the Spanish troops from Cuba would begin within the next month.

But it appears that the evacuation will cover a much longer time than has been anticipated. There are some 100,000 Spanish troops in the island. Allowing 1,000 men on a transport and a vessel leaving every day, it would take 100 days, or over three months, for the evacuation. But the vessels are not available for a trip every day for 100 consecutive days, so that the time for departure would probably exceed three months.

REORGANIZATION.

Major General Miles Has Completed His Plans for Volunteer Force.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Major General Miles has completed his plan for the reorganization of the volunteer forces into corps, divisions and brigades. The plan contemplates a reorganization of the volunteer force which has not been ordered mastered out and designates an army of occupation for Cuba, provides for the relief of the army in Porto Rico and establishes a reserve to relieve the troops in the various islands which will be occupied by the United States. It is known that the troops of the Seventh corps, now under General Lee, will be designated to go to Cuba, and that troops from the camps at Lexington, Knoxville and Middletown, will be selected for Cuban duty.

REVIEWED THE MARINES.

Bronzed Heroes of Guantanamo March Past the Executive Mansion.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The president yesterday reviewed from the portico of the white house a detachment of about 200 members of the marine corps which served at Guantanamo during the war. The marines had just arrived and they marched direct to the executive mansion, headed by the marine band. The president stood with bare head as the bronzed heroes marched past, bowing his head, waving his hat and clapping his hands in turn. He seemed much affected by the appearance of the men who had demeaned themselves so nobly during those trying days at the front where they constituted the only American force on Spanish soil.

NEW NAVAL GUNS.

Twelve-Inch Gun That Will Be More Powerful Than Present Thirteen-Inch.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The navy department has recently placed orders for forgings for naval rifles of calibres from 4 to 12-inch to supply the new battleships. Owing to changes in construction they will be much more powerful than guns of the same calibre now afloat on our ships. The ordnance officers have for several years realized the possibility of improving the present standard naval gun, effective as it is, but the time has not been opportune to do this. The advent of smokeless powder has also aided to make the change possible. The new 12-inch gun will be as effective as the present 13-inch gun in way of striking force.

The new gun will send its projectile at the enormous velocity of 3,000 feet per second, which is about 50 per cent greater than the velocity of the present 13-inch shell. The ordnance officers say that there is a very erroneous idea prevalent as to the value of the ammunition shot away by Dewey at Manila and by Sampson's fleet at Santiago. Instead of this running up as high as $2,000,000, as asserted in some quarters, the fact was that Dewey at Manila fired $47,000 worth of ammunition, and the North Atlantic fleet at Santiago on July 3 and during the bombardment not to exceed $100,000.

AGUINALDO'S EMISSARIES.

They Arrive in San Francisco Enroute to Washington.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—The United States transport China arrived yesterday from Manila, and brought with her as passengers two representatives of the provisional government of the Philippines enroute to Washington to plead with McKinley for independence of the islands, after which they will probably proceed to Paris to appear before the peace commission. The Philippines are Felipe Agoncillo and Jose Lopez, the former being Aguinaldo's chief emissary. In an interview he said the insurgents fully expected to be allowed to govern themselves, and even hinted that an agreement had been made with United States Consul Wildman regarding the outcome of the war, made by the insurgents against Spain, but what the terms were Agoncillo would not state. A passenger on the China disclosed some further information regarding the reported agreement between Wildman and the insurgents. He said: "Wildman promised Aguinaldo that the American forces would combine with the insurgents for the purpose of driving the Spaniards out of the Philippines. It was a joint war, and I think the Americans were to aid them to gain their independence and cast off the yoke of Spain."

General King Ordered to Manila.

GEN. AUGUSTI'S TALK

His Story of Dewey's Great Naval Victory In the Philippines.

ADMIRAL MONTEJO'S FLEET

Composed of Old Wooden Ships and the Shore Batteries Were Mounted on False Plates—Held Out Till Famine Starved Him In the Face and Dewey Bombarded the City.

Madrid, Sept. 23.—General Augusti, the former captain general of the Philippine islands, who has just arrived at Victoria, Spain, from Manila, in an interview is quoted as discussing the Philippine question in an interesting manner. He is alleged to have said: "Before I left Spain I knew the situation in the Philippine islands was grave. Senator Moret, (the minister of the colonies in the last cabinet of Senor Sagasta), remarked to me that if war with the United States broke out there would be a terrible state of things."

Continuing, General Augusti described Admiral Montejó's fleet as some "old, wooden ships," and said they "came to Manila practically pursued by Dewey." He then said: "Our batteries fired at the Americans, but our guns were mounted on false plates and after the first shots they became useless. At daybreak we were in the power of the Americans and an hour afterward the Spanish fleet had ceased to exist."

Dewey summoned me to surrender, I refused and he threatened to raze the town. I replied: "Raze it, but so long as I live the Spanish flag will float on the ruins of Manila."

"Then began the terrible time of the siege and the anguish of the blockade. Famine stared us in the face. In the meantime hostilities were conducted throughout the provinces, but, save in isolated cases, humanely."

"Dewey repeated his summons to surrender and I again refused. Dewey then bombarded the town and Manila surrendered."

"But, considering my presence no longer necessary, I asked the government for permission to go home, as my position had become by no means easy. I think I have done my duty as a soldier and a Spaniard."

CEVERA'S COOLNESS

Amounts Almost to a Snub of the Spanish Minister of Marine.

Madrid, Sept. 23.—The marked coolness of Admiral Cervera and his officers toward Senor Ancon, minister of marine, is much commented upon here. Senor Ancon and his staff, in uniform, met Admiral Cervera and his party at the railroad depot. The admiral halted before the minister, saluted and said, stiffly: "I am at the orders of your excellency. I shall present myself at the ministry today, as is my duty."

The minister of marine offered the use of his carriage to Admiral Cervera, but the latter declined to accept it and entered another carriage.

In an interview Admiral Cervera said he had a clear conscience regarding the defeat. Nations, he said, grew great by their victories and not by their defeats, however glorious they might be. Spain had lived in a dream and she now had to face reality. The admiral added that his warships were not destroyed in battle, but by fire.

General Toral, the Spanish commander who surrendered his forces at Santiago de Cuba, has arrived here without attracting any attention. He is now sick in bed.

The ministerial newspapers protest against the supposition that the United States will keep the Philippine islands. They maintain that Spain's rights to these islands are incontestable and that she is "resolved to defend her rights with the greatest energy."

NO IRONCLAD TREATY

Desired by American Industries With Canada, It Is Said.

Quebec, Sept. 23.—The people of the United States are evidently beginning to awaken to the great importance of the results which may come from the work of the international joint high commission now in session in this city. It has become known that the Canadian representatives are urging that the treaty embodying commercial reciprocity be made, which treaty, it is held, would seriously affect nearly all the great industries are now being heard from in a very emphatic way.

During the past 48 hours the American commissioners have been besieged by deputations of Americans, praying that no ironclad treaty be entered into which would disturb, if not in many instances destroy, the present protective tariff laws of the United States. The farmers of the United States have put in their protest and it is a very strong one. They were represented by Aaron Jones of Indiana, worthy master of the National Grange, and F. J. Bachelder of New Hampshire, chairman of the national executive committee. They were given a very full hearing and will have another audience before the commissioners act.

Yellow Fever.

Louisville, Sept. 23.—Advices from the south last night indicate that in only one town is the yellow fever epidemic causing serious apprehension. One new case at Jackson, Miss.; 70 cases at Franklin, La.; five new cases at Orwood, Miss.

MURDER MYSTERY

Chicago Police Disposed to Regard Jennie Hickey's Death as a Suicide.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—There were no developments in the Jennie Hickey murder case. The higher police officials, including Chief Kiple, are disposed to regard it as a suicide, but the physician who made the postmortem examination declares emphatically that the girl was murdered. It has been learned that Thomas Rutledge, the expressman, who is under arrest on suspicion, did not bring his wagon into the stable of his employer until 1:30 Wednesday morning, although he should have been in by 10 p. m. Tuesday. When he appeared at the stable Wednesday afternoon he was discharged and seemed greatly excited because the wagon had gone out with some things in it which he wished to obtain. Two other arrests have been made, but nothing is expected to result from them.

Briggs of Illinois, Sam McFadden of Indiana, James Givens of Kentucky, D. G. Wood of Tennessee, N. H. Garr of Oklahoma and E. M. Davis of Pennsylvania. Indianapolis was selected as the place of meeting next year.

FAIRY TALE

Dreyfus' Name Not Mentioned in the Documents Brought Against Him.

Paris, Sept. 23.—General Picquart was transferred yesterday afternoon to the military prison of Cherche Midi.

The Matin affirms that it has authentic information that the name of Dreyfus was never once mentioned in the mass of documents brought against him. It adds that the only serious document is the so-called bordereau.

The documents in the case, it appears, consist entirely of fragments of letters referring to everything except Dreyfus, and the whole matter, The Matin adds, "constitutes such a fairy tale that no soberminded person would dream of accepting it."

OLD GLORY

Worn by Lord Aberdeen at the Ottawa Exposition.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—At the conclusion of the exercises at the Ottawa exhibition, Lord Aberdeen made a tour of the grounds. The party first visited the Aberdeen pavilion. When passing up the center aisle a young woman in attendance at one of the exhibits, asked his excellency's permission to pin a small souvenir of the stars and stripes on his coat lapel. The request was granted and Lord Aberdeen wore "Old Glory" for the rest of the afternoon.

Tried to Knock His Brains Out.

Lebanon, Ky., Sept. 23.—A man of about 40 years of age, who gave his name as Patrick Henry and his home as being in Whitley county, this state, attempted suicide in this city. He was seen to strike a telegraph pole a number of times and then to strike his head against a railroad crosstie. He was arrested on a charge of lunacy. He says he escaped from the Bakeland (Ky.) asylum.

The Democrats of New York may yet have to fall back on David Bennett Hill for governor, as he is the only available man left in the party in that State.

The Chicago Democrats have decided to go into the campaign without a platform. The Chicago democrats realize that too-much-platform was the trouble in 1896.

AMERICAN capital is about to engage in railroad building in China. This will mean more orders for American mills and more employment for American workmen.

After much deliberation the Delaware democrats have resolved that the McKinley administration is a dismal failure. The decision will be quite popular in Madrid.

The war has been a hard discipline for one William J. Bryan. Solitary confinement would not be a more severe punishment for most men than deprivation of the right to make political speeches is to him.—Journal.

GENERAL Joe Wheeler is evidently electioneering for another installment of Leader Joe Bailey's disapproval. The fighting congressman has taken occasion to deny some of the democratic charges concerning the treatment of the troops.

THAT quartette of republican workers at Columbus, whom some of the democrats up there call the "Big Four," will doubtless be accused of having had something to do with the appointment of the Des Moines (Ia.) postmaster. The man appointed is a brother of Wm. Schooler, one of the "Big Four" combination.

SENATOR STEWART is out in Nevada trying to arouse the indignation of the people over the "crime of '73." There is a senatorial election at hand in that state and Stewart needs considerable of that sort of indignation in his business.

Great preparation are being made for the entertainment of the Indiana conference of the M. E. church, which meets here next Tuesday and will last pretty much the entire week. About 400 ministers and many high dignitaries are expected, and all should receive such a welcome as will make their visit one long to be remembered by them.—Princeton Leader.

IN DECLARING in favor of annexing the whole of the Philippines Senator Lindsay, of Kentucky, is a long way in advance of the majority of his party. A large majority of the American people, however, want the Philippines annexed and no party which opposes this policy can gain the popular favor. Bryan opposes annexation in any shape, even of Porto Rico. Ex-Gov. Stone, shrewder than Bryan, acquiesces in the annexation of Cuba and Porto Rico, but he stops there. He is against the acquisition of the Philippines. The people go farther than Stone, and they will condemn Stoneism as well as Bryanism.—Globe-Democrat.

The Wheat Crop.

A political economist in Siberia reports for 1,400 miles east of Moscow the crops are very poor, and that a space of 500 miles square of this territory the crops, even grass, are a total failure; that in Samara, which is twice as large as Belgium, farmers will not raise enough to supply one fifth of the population; that this stricken district is the finest spring wheat and cereal section in Russia, and generally has a large exportable surplus. A Russian official says Russian provinces will require to import 80,000,000 bushels of grain, and he cannot see how wheat can remain down in price that stocks the world over have been completely depleted, and in Russia are completely exhausted.—Ware & Leland.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four Doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave my self up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Cough and Cold. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles at W. F. Peter Drug Store.

Umbrellas Must Match Street Costumes

No more black umbrellas. The umbrellas must match the costume, for this winter. If you wear a dark red cloth suit, you must carry a dark red silk umbrella to match; and dark blue, dark green, and even shaded umbrellas to match costumes are being made for the winter season. Already some of the best tailors in town are receiving orders for umbrellas to match the costumes. Ordered in this way they are naturally very expensive. Tarify women who want to follow the new fad will purchase silk to match their tailor suits, take it, with frame of an old umbrella, to a local umbrella or parasol maker, and for a comparatively small sum of money, keep in the rapidly-moving van of fashion. It should be borne in mind that the fad is for a storm umbrella, not a parasol to match the suit.—From "Society Fads," by Paddy de Peyster, in Demorest's Magazine for October.

PAY FEES OR SUFFER

TIPS THAT MUST BE GIVEN ON THE BIG OCEAN LINERS.

The Passenger Who Seeks to Evade This System of Mild Blackmailing Has His Life on Board Made Miserable by the Employees of the Steamship.

The fee system is more rigidly enforced on a big passenger steamship than anywhere else. It is one of the places where servants demand their fees and tell you the amount that they think you ought to give them. While the waiters at restaurants and hotels expect fees for their services and will hint and may perhaps make it embarrassing for you if they are not paid they have not gone so far as to tell you that they want a fee and prescribe the amount. Even porters do not do that. They come around, brush your coat and hat and run the whisk over your trousers, but it is seldom that they ask you for any money, let alone a specified amount.

On the passenger steamers the stewards regard their fees as a matter of right as much as the steamship company regards your passage money. It is possible to avoid paying the fees, as they are not collectable by law, but the passenger who does not pay them will have trouble in getting his luggage off the steamer, and it would be well for him to keep off steamers afterward where any of the servants of that boat are employed.

The stewards seem to have some sort of fee guidebook or black list of passengers who do not give fees, so that they can make them suffer on future trips. Certain fees are regularly fixed and expected, irrespective of the cost of the stateroom or the style in which a man travels, while certain other fees depend on the style. For an ordinary passenger there are fees to be given to the stateroom steward, the saloon steward, the deck steward, the smoking room steward and the barber and bath man.

The fee to the steward who looks after your stateroom is about 10 shillings. The steward who waits on you at the table should receive the same fee. The deck steward, for bringing you an occasional drink and looking after your steamer chair and rugs, expects 5 shillings, but he will take half a crown. The smoking room steward expects 5 shillings, and if you are in the smoking room a great part of the trip he feels that he is entitled to as much as the stateroom steward or your waiter. A bath every day on the passage can be had for a 5 shilling fee.

These rates are fixed by long custom. The stewards can tell whether or not a man understands the rates and if he will pay at the end of the trip. If they do not think that he will, they give him hints from time to time until they get some assurance on his part that he recognizes the obligation of the fee system. If they think he will not pay, he will have a hard time of it. He will find that his stateroom is not well made up; that he does not get care when he is seasick; that he is served less at the table and does not get the things that he ordered; that the wrong drinks and cigars come to him in the smoking room, and that his steamer chair is constantly lost. The servants are as effective as seasickness in making a man's trip miserable.

These fees are not to be paid until the last day of the trip. The servants very speedily find out at which place a passenger is to get off. If making his first trip, they are pretty sure to know it. It is advisable for him in that case to tell his stateroom steward and his waiter that he will give them the regular fee at the end of the trip if they serve him properly and that if they do not they will not get a penny. If he tells them this in the proper way, he will get as good service as the man who is well known.

The last morning of the trip the stateroom steward comes round for his fee. If the passenger does not offer it, the steward suggests that it is customary to give him a fee, and that the regular fee is half a sovereign. If anything less is offered him and he thinks he can get a half sovereign by refusing to accept less, he will at once hand the proffered sum back and say in an insolent way that he never takes less than the regular fee.

With many passengers, particularly women, this remark and the tone extract the 10 shillings. The saloon steward does the same thing. The stewards work in with each other, and if a man succeeds in avoiding the stateroom steward the saloon steward will ask him for both himself and the stateroom steward. As a man cannot get off the ship until it stops, there is no way of escaping these demands, which will be repeated during the last day of the trip until the passenger succumbs.—New York Home Journal.

Much of the artificial coloring of foods is traditional and not meant to deceive. Thus candies are colored obviously to please the eye and add to the attractiveness of the confectioner's showcase, and likewise butter and mustard are colored with no intent to spoil their purity.

TWO TOILERS.

Two men toiled side by side from sun to sun, And both were poor; Both sat with children when the day was done About their door.

One saw the beautiful in crimson cloud And shining moon; And the other, with his head in sadness bowed, Made night of noon.

One loved each tree and flower and singing bird; On mount or plain; No music in the soul of one was stirred By leaf or rain.

One saw the good in every fellow man, And hoped the best; The other marvelled at his master's plan, And doubt confessed.

One, having heaven above and heaven below; Was satisfied; The other, discontented, lived in woe, And hopeless died.

A VANITY BOOK.

Personal Record Keeping Whose Interest Excuses Its Vanity.

In the beginning one's parents must be the authors, or if the parents will not then some devoted aunt may win for herself the warmest thanks in years to come. When Heart's Delight came to earth some 15 years ago, a substantial volume was bought to be her book. Into this went first the genealogy of the family on father's and mother's sides as far as there was knowledge of it. Photographs of great-great-grandparents, grandparents and parents were inserted. The wedding dress of the paternal grandmother was shown by a small piece, and the maternal side was rich with bits of the wedding dresses of mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. Photographs of father and mother at the time of their marriage and when Heart's Delight was born were also added. To these were added one of the house and the room which the little maid made blessed by her coming. The announcement card went in and letters written for her welcome. Mamma wrote a description of the wonder, and papa took her photograph.

All this was for the beginning, but as months went on there was more to chronicle. Baby's ways, the coming of her first tooth, her first word and when it was spoken, when she began to creep and then to walk—all these were recorded. Into the book went, too, such treasures as the first sock, the first little shoe, a piece of her first colored dress. Everything of whatever kind that marked a beginning found a permanent place in the Vanity Book, and the story of the child's life may be read therein.

As the child developed the character of the items naturally changed. When she went to school, her early efforts supplied more material, sometimes in the shape of school work and sometimes as stories of childish temptations or griefs and joys. Heart's Delight's first letter is entered in the book.

There are so many tokens here that are treasures, more valuable as they grow older. The first invitation to a party, the first theater programme, and with this are other programmes of those things which have impressed the child. Her first party dress, of course, was shown in the book. Throughout the book are photographs of Heart's Delight herself as she grew toward girlhood and of the girls and boys who were her friends.

Long ago the bookmaking fell into the hands of the girl herself, and she adds to it all that points to the story she is making. Everything of pleasure, of special benefit in her life, is to be recalled from this book, and even now she prizes it above all her possessions. What will it be to her when she is 50? What will it be to her when she is 80? What will it be to her when she is 100? What will it be to her when she is 120? What will it be to her when she is 140? What will it be to her when she is 160? ## Beautiful Church Wedding.

Last evening at the First Baptist church Mr. Winfred E. Ross, of Washington, and Miss Nettie Lester, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lester, of this city, were united in marriage in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms and cut flowers. As the guests arrived they were escorted to seats by the ushers, Messrs. DeGraft Billings, John M. Lewis, Ed. Bryan, N. M. Carlson, Louis B. Seifert, of Washington, and Geo. Woody, of Columbus. A few minutes after 8 o'clock Mrs. May Mechen, of Vincennes, took her place at the piano and began the wedding march and the bridal party entered. The ushers proceeded down the aisle from the lecture room followed immediately by the bridesmaids, Misses Bertie Brown, Alice Cobb, Nettie Crabb, Emma Crabb, Beatrice Cozme and Clara Childs, and the maid of honor, Miss Vivian Ross, sister of the groom. Immediately following them came the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The groom, with Mort Crabb, the best man, came down the side aisle. They met in front of the altar, where the solemn and impressive ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. W. Clevenger. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white liberty silk and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaids were attired in white organdie.

After the ceremony the wedding party went to the home of the bride's parents and remained until the hour arrived for the newly married couple to start for the depot to take the train for Detroit where they will reside. A number of friends and relatives were present at the wedding from Washington, Vincennes, Columbus and other places.

They were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

Files a Disclaimer.

Joseph Smith very positively asserts that he is not to be married next week during the progress of the street fair and that all reports to the contrary are untrue. This, so far as we know, leaves the young attorney, who is an officer of the state and city, a clear field as a competitor for the bedroom suit.

BURN

R. F. WHITE'S

MINIFREDE GOAL.

A Sea Gale.

The boy stood on the burning deck.

And shouted over the sea:

"I'll have to let this fire go out.

Unless you send to me—

"A dozen tons or so of coal.

White's Winifrede brand preferred—

With that I'll keep these flames alive

Till Gabriel's trump is heard."

One hundred tons of Winifrede

Were shipped at early dawn,

But ere they reached the fatal scene

The boy and ship were gone.

The moral of this glowing tale

Is clear, beyond a doubt:

Let R. F. WHITE fill up your bins

Before your coal gives out.
